

As A Matter of Fact, I've Known Jack Schitt for a Long Time

Jack Schitt is the son of Awe Schitt, the fertilizer magnate, and Fanny Paine, owner of the Hemmer-Road Creamery, both natives of Poopalotta, Arkansas.

Jack strained in school but his grades always stunk. He married his highschool sweetheart, Portia Lynn Bowl. Jack's ordained uncle, Fulla Schitt, performed the wedding ceremony while his brother, Tuff Schitt, tooted his flute.

The Maid of Honor, Charmin, was deeply flushed.

Jack and Portia produced six baby Schitts.

Holy Schitt, their first, passed shortly after birth.

Next came twin sons, Deep and Dip.

Then two daughters, Noel ("Just call me 'No'") and Oh Schitt.

And then, late in their forties, another son appeared.

Jack called him Bull Schitt.

Deep Schitt married Di Rhea, a most commodious gal.

Their only son, Dum Schitt, dropped out of highschool, went to work for a local Italian eatery and is now known in the family as "that pizza Schitt."

Dip Schitt married Lotta Krap and they have a son named Givah Schitt - although they often claim they don't.

Oh and No Schitt married the Happens brothers.

The Schitt-Happens kids started a cap and T-shirt business.

Bull Schitt never married.

He used to ride motorcycles with Ruby Bunns

... but they wrecked 'um.

And as for Jack, well he just farts around the house, like the old Schitt he is.